15 Describe the quantitative effect of the organ	nizational action on the basis of the security in	the hands of a U.S. taxpayer as an adjustment per share or as a percentage of old basis > The distributions per share were $19.00 and $18.75 respectively. $0.00 per share is estimated to be taxable dividend (with no effect on basis). The remaining $19.00 and $18.75 per share is a reduction in the stock basis in each share. To the extent the tax basis in a share is less than $19.00 and $18.77 per share, the excess over the basis in that share is recognized as capital gain. share, the excess over the basis in that share is recognized as capital gain.
16 Describe the calculation of the change in ba	asis and the data that supports the calculation	, such as the market values of securities and the valuation dates ▶ When a cash dis	tribution (or other distribution)	ution of property) is made by a corporation it is treated as a taxable dividend to the extent of the current and accumulated earnings and profits ("E&P") of that corporation at the date of the distribution or, in certain cases, at the end of the tax year in which the distribution was made. In order to determine what portion of this cash distribution should be treated as a taxable dividend versus return of capital/capital gain, HC2 completed a computation of E&P as of December 31, 2017, with an estimate of the current E&P for the year ended December 31, 2017. According to this computation, HC2 had approximately $0.00 of E&P per outstanding share of stock. As a result, the distributions of $19.00 and $18.75 per share resulted in a dividend of $0.00 per share as a reduction in basis of up to $19.00 and $18.75 per share.
